Three Alpha Delt Lost by Chapter In Recent Months

Palmer '78, Wigglesworth '22,
Young '93 Are Brothers
Mourned by Chapter

The chapter has learned of the death of three alumni members within recent months.

Lynde Palmer '78 died suddenly at his home in Plattsburg, N. Y., November 19. Previous to his retirement in 1929, Brother Palmer had been sales representative in the east of the St. Paul and Tacoma Lumber company, and had also been associated with their manufacturing operations in Washington.

On War Industries Board

During the war, he served on the War Industries board, having charge of purchases by the Allies and the U. S. government of Douglas fir and airplane spruce. Earlier business ventures included a four-year partnership in the cattle business, and a partnership in another lumber company.

Brother Palmer was a member of both the freshman and varsity crews on the Hill, his oar hanging over the fireplace in the old house for many years previous to the fire.

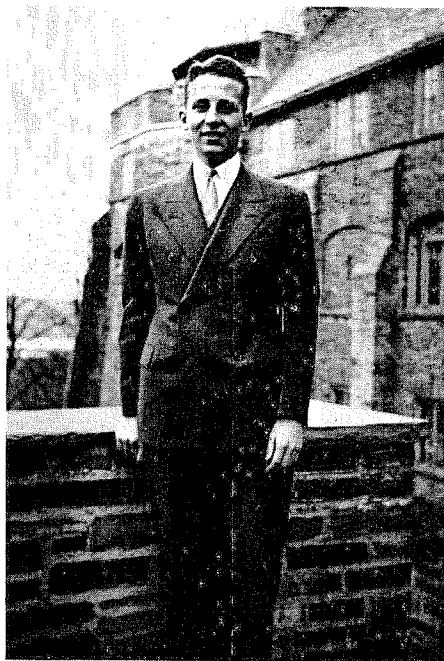

William Young '93

William Young '93 died in Williamsport, June 14, the chapter has learned only recently. Before retiring in 1934, he had been Judge of the Children's court in New York City for nine years. His public career started with three terms in the New York State Assembly in 1905-06-07. This was followed by 16 years on the New York Municipal court bench.

He was a member of both the freshman and the varsity crews, and played varsity football in '92. In addition to his wife and two children, he is survived by four Alpha Delt brothers, Edwin P. Young '94, John P. Young '94, Charles V. P. Young '99, and George H. Young '00, as well as three sisters.

Chapter Completes Junior Week Plans With Other Houses

To Join Kappa Alpha, Psi Upsilon
For Dances and Parties;
Miller in Charge

Plans are complete for Junior Week, February 11, 12, and 13, at which time Alpha Delta Phi will join with Kappa Alpha and Psi Upsilon in celebrating the event. Plans are under the direction of Gurden Miller '38, social chairman.

The first function planned is a cocktail party at the house Thursday night, followed by a formal dance at which Kappa Alpha and Psi Upsilon will be guests of the chapter. Music will be furnished by Jack Jackson, and his colored band of Boston.

Three Bands To Play

The climax of the weekend will be the Junior Prom Friday night, at which three bands—Bob Crosby, Jimmy Lunceford, and Hudson DeLange—will vie in a three-cornered battle of music.

Saturday afternoon Kappa Alpha will entertain at a tea dance at the Lido, well-known club just outside Ithaca. Saturday night, the three groups will dance at the Psi Upsilon house.

Many Events Planned

Many events have been planned by the committee in charge of the weekend. The Outdoor carnival has been planned for Thursday night—if there's any snow and ice. The house freshmen will enter the ski-joring contest if nature provides the facilities.

A production by the Musical clubs, "Life Begins at Midnight," and five athletic events Saturday are also provided for the entertainment of the guests.

SECRETARY VISITS HOUSE

Jim France, of the Brunonian chapter, and national recording secretary, spent a week at the chapter house recently. Such visits are made to every chapter annually, and are for the purpose of determining the condition of the chapter and making a report to the national office.

Let's Have Some More Letters

When publication of the ALPHA DELT was inaugurated, one of the most popular features was the "Letters" department. The response at first was excellent, and many alumni renewed old contacts through this column.

Lately, however, our volume of mail has fallen off. We'd like to keep this department up, but that's up to you alumni. How about a few lines to the editor, telling him of your work, recent trips, inventions, or meetings with other Alpha Deltas? Your old friends will like to hear about you again.

Robert L. Gifford '91 is associated with the Illinois Engineering company, lives at 1231 S. El Molino avenue, Pasadena, Calif. "Bob" was very active on the Hill, serving as editor-in-chief of the Cornellian and managing editor of the Era. In addition, he held the Cornell record for the mile walk for 15 years, besides winning a first in the Intercollegiate in this event.

LETTERS

Invitation to Dallas

To the Editor:

I enclose herewith the record for your files.

It gives me much pleasure to hear from you fellows. As the days go by I realize more and more that my most happy moments were spent at 777 Stewart avenue and the various bulletins and announcements from the house are pleasant reminders of those days.

I want you to make known to the members there my whereabouts in Dallas and issue to them for me a standing invitation to visit this city as my guests. I will always be glad to see them. . . .

This letter carries with it my heartiest good wishes for you all during the coming year.

MUNSON M'KINNEY '30

Glad we are to give "Mac's" whereabouts, 205 Magnolia building, Dallas, Texas, where he is engaged in handling municipal bonds with Rauscher, Pierce and company. He married Miss Mary C. McConnell in 1932; they have a six-months-old daughter, Joan.—Ed.

Big League Jitters

To the Editor:

I appreciate your kind invitation to write an article of from five to seven hundred words concerning the trials, pleasures, and experiences of a big league baseball executive.

I am afraid, however, that such an article would not be good reading, the language would not be understood, and I might be called on to do a lot of explaining to my clergy friends if I wrote such a story.

Best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year.

ALVA BRADLEY '07

Sorry we are that Brother Bradley is so modest, because we know there is a lot of interesting material there concerning the Cleveland Indians. We hope he will relent and help us out sometime in the future.—Ed.

Francis D. Gamewell '79 Served in China 49 Years

Living quietly at 4709 Pine street, Philadelphia, Pa., is Francis D. Gamewell '79, who retired in 1930 after 49 years of active missionary service in China.

He was enrolled as a civil engineering student on the Hill but transferred to Dickinson, where he received his A.B., A.M., and Ph.D. In 1881, he entered educational work in Peking, China, and three years later, was made superintendent of the West China Mission.

In 1889, he became professor of chemistry and physics at Peking University, and held this position until 1900. Thus he was in China during the Boxer Rebellion, and was in charge of the fortifications of the British legation.

The following years found him holding many important positions in the missionary field of the Methodist Episcopal church. He was also named a trustee of Yenching University, Peking, China.

Where The Pine Tree Meets The Sea

A pen and ink sketch of one of the beauty spots of Asilomar.

David Visel '16 Joined the Y.W.C.A. To Become California Resort Manager

Supervising the "only place in the world where the piney mountain-top meets the white sand at the sea" is the agreeable task of David Visel '16, co-manager of Asilomar, resort-by-the-sea, Pacific Grove, Monterey Peninsular, California.

It all came about when Asilomar, for years the national recreation headquarters of the Y. W. C. A., fell into financial difficulties. Realizing its possibilities, David and his brother, Paulsen, "joined" the Y. and received the chance to run it as a public resort.

An Ideal Situation

It consists of 60 acres of forest leading directly down to the white-sanded beach at Pacific Grove. This sand, incidentally, is of such an excellent grade that a large sand washer is set up there and weekly sends out carloads to San Francisco and Los Angeles department stores for children's sand piles.

Accommodations for 450 guests are provided in the rustic fieldstone and redwood buildings. A banquet hall seats 500, while another building provides indoor sports, a stage and dance floor, card room, and an auditorium seating 1,000.

Invites Alpha Deltas

Because he is such a distance from the Hill, Dave seldom sees any members of the Cornell chapter. However, he extends a most cordial welcome to any brothers who may be traveling in the west to drop in and see him. So convinced is he that Asilomar is one of the best settings for such an affair in the country, Dave is now trying to interest national officers of Alpha Delta Phi in holding a national convention there.
